

Website Terms and Conditions

Purpose

The purpose of these terms and conditions is to outline Brighten Institute Australia's expectations of how this site is accessed and used. These terms and conditions are not independent of Brighten Institute Australia's other policies and do not overrule any information contained within.

The Brighten Institute Australia website [www.brighten.edu.au] is wholly owned by Brighten Institute Australia Pty Ltd and has been provided for your educational and information purposes. By using this website, all users are subject to the following terms and conditions outlined in this document. If you disagree with any of the terms and conditions listed on this website, you should discontinue use immediately. These terms and conditions are subject to change at any time. Furthermore, Brighten Institute Australia is under no obligation to notify its users of changes to its terms and conditions of use. Our terms and conditions are as follows:

Website Content

- I. All content of this website is provided in good faith for personal use only. The information included on the website can be changed at Brighten Institute Australia's discretion and is subject to change without notice.
- II. Neither Brighten Institute Australia nor any related organisations provide any warranty or guarantee as to the accuracy, timeliness, performance, completeness or suitability of the information and materials found or offered on this website. By using this website, you acknowledge that the information and content within the website may contain inaccuracies or errors. Brighten Institute Australia expressly excludes liability for any such inaccuracies or errors to the fullest extent permitted by law.
- III. Users are to assume all risks associated with using this website. While Brighten Institute Australia takes effort to provide a secure and safe website, we do not take responsibility to any computer damage or loss of data resulting from accessing our website.
- IV. Your use of any information or materials on this website is entirely at your own risk, for which we shall not be liable. It shall be your own responsibility to ensure that any products, services or information available through this website meet your specific requirements.
- V. This website contains material which is owned by or licensed to us. This material includes, but is not limited to, the design, layout, look, appearance and graphics. Reproduction is prohibited other than in accordance with the copyright notice, which forms part of these terms and conditions.

Website access

- i. Brighten Institute Australia reserves the right to withdraw or alter the site without notice. Furthermore, we will not be held responsible if the site is unavailable and we reserve the right to withdraw the website for maintenance purposes. Users who are provided with access to portions of the site restricted to public are expected to treat all passwords and identifiers as confidential information. Brighten Institute Australia reserves the right to disable or revoke any access in the event that the information is disclosed or misused.
- ii. Brighten Institute Australia's website may collect some data about user usage (for example, through cookies). This information is used solely to track site usage and improve site services. Brighten Institute Australia respects the user's right to disable cookies through their internet browser.

- iii. Users must not take actions to attempt to circumvent Brighten Institute Australia's electronic security protocols or make any attempt to access restricted areas of the website without authorisation. Furthermore, users must not misrepresent their identity.

Uploaded Material

- i. All use of this website and its content must serve lawful purposes and is subject to Australian Law. Furthermore, this website may not be used to generate any type of material, promotional or otherwise, for the purpose of solicitation of others. Material uploaded must not contain content that infringes on others' intellectual property.
- ii. Any content uploaded or displayed on the site by users must not contain any material that offends, harasses or makes an attack on others. Furthermore, uploaded content must not contain any information that is sexually explicit, derogatory, hateful or discriminatory towards individuals or groups within society. Uploaded content must also not promote any activities considered unlawful in Australia. Additionally, content must not include any type of computer code or program that damages the website or invades Brighten Institute Australia's privacy or the privacy of its users.
- iii. Brighten Institute Australia reserves the right to remove or modify any uploaded content. In addition, we take no responsibility for the content uploaded by users of the website

Third Party Content

- i. All trademarks reproduced in this website, which are not the property of, or licensed to the operator, are acknowledged on the website.
- ii. Any information contained on this website that links to an outside source has been provided for information purposes only. Brighten Institute Australia does not endorse the content, owners or services of any other third party. Similarly, Brighten Institute Australia does not take responsibility for the content of any linked site.

Linking and Embedded Content

- i. You may link or embed information from our website; however, you may not imply any relationship, association, or endorsement without permission given in writing. Our logo or trademark are also not to be used without prior permission from Brighten Institute Australia.
